Where to Beach

Cooper's Beach

268 Meadow Ln
Southampton, NY 11968

Voted as one of the most beautiful beaches in America, Cooper's Beach is the secluded shore you'll have to visit at least once. It's where sun worshippers perfect their tans decked on immaculate white quartz sand. The great waves and on-duty lifeguard attract rookie surfers who can safely master the waves. Side note: Cooper's beach is the only beach in Southampton with a lifeguard.

Because it's never overcrowded, you'll be able to play a disc game of your liking without eliciting anger from sunbathers. Perfect for parents with lively kids.

If you're still on the fence about this family friendly coast, then we're obliged to disclose that it's science approved. Stephen Leatherman aka Dr. Beach, a coastal science professor at Florida International University, puts this shore on his annual list of best public beaches that he ranks by sand and water quality. You can't argue with science.

Walking Dunes

Montauk, NY 11954, USA

Want a quick escape from the Hamptons' nautical and manicured landscape? Give the Walking dunes a try. These sand hills that can get as tall as 80 feet will transport you to the deserts in Dubai. They're called the walking dunes because the hills, formed 100 years ago, are in constant flux. The 7.5-mile trail starts on the beach and takes hikers through natural scrub and foliage called the Phantom Forest. It's an area filled with dead trees that're emerging from the dunes as they travel. For those who complete the hike, a spectacular view of the Napeague Harbor awaits.

Where to Shop and Play

Antiquing in Sag Harbor

Ahhh, antiquing! How can you not love it? It's an eco-friendly way of shopping for souvenirs to bring back home. And Sag Harbor has some of the best stores for that. The cluster of antique stores in this village will transport you from Bay Street to the French countryside or simply to the Hamptons' fishing days.

Find paintings, nautical wares and character-adding ornaments in the shops where Jimmy Fallon, Martha Stewart and Gwyneth Paltrow go treasure hunting.

Longhouse Reserve Garden

133 Hands Creek Rd
East Hampton, NY

If you're looking to tickle your creativity, you'll find inspiration in textile designer Jack Lenor Larsen's multicultural sculptural garden, the LongHouse Reserve. Like his textile designs, the eclectic public garden is a marriage of worldwide cultures, and the designed landscape brings the world to the Hamptons.

Despite being an artform itself, the 16-acre garden has a collection of donated, purchased and loaned sculptures. It's a case study of the interaction between plants, art and people. Amongst the impressive collection are pieces such as Buckminster Fuller's "Fly's Eye Dome," Yoko Ono's "Play It By Trust" and Willem de Kooning's "Reclining Figure." The sculptures share the spotlight with not only a wide variety of natural elements such as a water lily pond, a short allée of red azalea and lotus plants, but also a Larsen's private house. A 7th century Shinto shrine in Ise, Japan inspired Larsen to build that house.

Thanks to Larsen's quirky and magical view of art and gardening, this imaginative space is appropriate for all ages and tastes.

Gurney's Montauk Resort and Seawater Spa

290 Old Montauk Highway
Montauk, NY

This East Coast glamorous institution is Montauk's only year-round oceanfront. You might be wondering why you'd spend time by the pool when the Hamptons has plenty of pristine beaches. Well, Gurney's Montauk Resort and Seawater Spa will seduce you with more than its dramatic ocean views and private 2,000-foot sand beach. The resort has the states' only indoor, ocean-fed seawater pool with panoramic views of the Atlantic Ocean. The view alone will melt off the stress of everyday life.

Aside from great views, guests can enjoy spa amenities including a Finnish rock sauna, Russian stream room and a Swiss shower. After a wellness-filled day, famished visitors can try to nab a table at the popular (read: always booked) Scarpetta. You can also hop on the complimentary shuttle to their newest resort and indulge in a leisurely Showfish dinner.

Pollock-Krasner House and Study Center

830 Springs Fireplace Rd
East Hampton, NY 11937

Want to feel what the leader of the Abstract Expressionist movement felt under his feet as he painted? Make a pit stop at the Pollock-Krasner House and Study Center. The home of artists Jackson Pollock and Judith Krasner, Pollock's wife and advocate, is exactly as it was when Krasner died in 1984. The furniture, the hi-fi phonograph that poured Pollock jazz music as he created, his record collection and the couple's personal library are all in the 19th century fisherman's cottage.

The studio, the main attraction in the cottage, has walls that're lined with photographs and text panels that outline Pollock's career. Krasner's paint strokes from when she stepped out of her husband's shadow adds soul to the room. Under said photographs and text panels, you'll find a shelf with a lineup of open paint cans which were left there at the time of Pollock's death. But, the centerpiece in the studio is the paint-splattered wooden floor. It's where Pollock created some of his most acclaimed work.

Intrigued? Avoid the parking issues at the Pollock-Krasner House and Study Center and hop on a local bus from the train station.

Lexington East Hampton Store

73 Main St.
East Hampton, NY 11937

You didn't think we'd forget to put our store on this list, did you? Well, we didn't. Our East Hampton store attracts not only locals, but also celebrities from around the world who'd like to take a piece of East Hampton back home. You won't only find great American clothes and interior design, but also amazing service from our experienced staff.

Where to Eat

Wölffer Kitchen

4 Amagansett Square
Amagansett, NY 11930
and
29 Main St.
Sag Harbor, NY 11963

Since this casually buzzy European chic restaurant is backed by the siblings that brought Wölffer Vineyard to the Hamptons, it's no surprise that the food here is created to go with their extensive wine list. The crowd is sophisticated, and the cuisine is a mix of American and Mediterranean influences created using locally sourced ingredients.

Though we can't help but drool over the falafel shrimp, we recommend that you try any of their wine, grape juice or cider-infused cocktails — all of which are harvested at the vineyard. We believe they're the season's cocktails.

Grindstone Coffee and Donuts

7 Main St.
Sag Harbor, NY 11963

Can't escape your sweet tooth? Stop by Grindstone. This grab-and-go spot serves fresh brioche and cake doughnuts in innovative flavors such as the Matcha Green Tea, the Maple Bacon and the Thai Peanut donuts. The pad-Thai-inspired doughnut, a summer favorite, is covered in spicy peanut butter glaze, brown sugar peanuts, lime zest and topped off with Thai basil.

Since all glazes and fillings are made from locally sourced organic ingredients, it's not too shocking to see that they sell a Wölffer Rosé Jelly donut. Collaborating with a vineyard that gave the locals summer in a bottle resulted in a doughnut perfect for summer mornings on the dock.

Oh, and before we forget, doughnuts come in XXXL for special occasions or for those who are on a doughnut-only diet.

Clam Bar At Napeague

2025 Montauk Hwy.
Amagansett, NY 11930

This open-air, roadside, summer-only shack has been serving good ol' New England food to families for over 30 years. This institution is perfect for those looking to down the catch of the day. The lobster rolls, fried clams, clams and oysters on the half shell, stuffed clams or clam chowder are all worth the pilgrimage. The fair-weather spot with its white plastic chairs is approved by locals, Hamptons-bound passersby, and the swankiest celebs.

Paola's

341 Pantigo Road
East Hampton, NY 11937

Ever been to EMP Summer, the iconic nightlife haunt with the most covetable tables in East Hampton? Well, it's now home to Paola's, an East End outpost of the Upper East Side restaurant that has been plating traditional Northern Italian fare for more than 30 years. EMP Summer's seafood-heavy menu has been swapped for a condensed version of the NYC establishment's menu which includes the owners', Paola Bottero and her son Stefano Marracino, family recipes.

The restaurant has been open since Memorial Day weekend and offers locally sourced, eco-friendly food. Expect to be wowed by dishes such as roasted fresh beets with Montrachet goat cheese, toasted hazelnuts, orange segments, watercress and hazelnut dressing; and seared squid topped with aromatic breadcrumbs, lemon and olive oil.

Now that you're armed with this list, all you have to do is show up and show out.
